LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

As the Head of the Information Science & Engineering, of the esteemed college PESIT [Peoples Education Society Institute of Technology], I take it as my conscientiousness to furnish the particulars of a valued student "ABHIJITH D.A.". He was one of the meticulous and innovative students of the class; a class which as a whole was a nice batch.

I remember teaching him the subjects like 'C' and 'Data Structures'. He is excellent at grasping even the difficult and confusing concepts. He is very much good at understanding and using the subjects in his own way rather than just knowing it. He was to a great extent involved in the courses, which I mean is, it gives a professor the motivation to lecture the students.

He had moreover involved in various challenging projects. Specially in networking project called "Network Monitoring", where I remember that, they were monitoring the systems remotely. He had done a Mini-project in a team on compilers called "Simulation of Compiler", in which they had effectively coded and parsed the commands to get the desired outputs. He has also done his Main-project in the India's prominent university, IISc [Indian Institute of Science]. There he had done a project on a real time problem. They have even presented the paper on the same at the Conference conducted at the International Level.

I, hence take this opportunity for recommending the student, Mr. ABHIJITH D.A. to your prestigious university, where I can hope to see his bright future. I wish him the All the best for his higher studies.
